CHANGES IN TRAINING SCHOOL. OPENING OF THE FALL QUARTER FEW CHANGES IN THE FACULTY. GRIDIRON OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT.

New System Started.

The elementary school in connection with the Normal has been completely reorganized into a demonstration school which will be used to exemplify the best type of instruction and organization of its kind. The work will comprise the kindergarten, primary and elementary school, and the junior high school. The rooms are all on the first floor of the Normal and are especially arranged for the work. Three teachers are employed for the entire year in the elementary school.

Miss Ruth Beggs, a graduate of the Normal School and for the past four years in charge of the primary grades of the public schools of Shelbyville, Mo., has charge of grades one and two.

Miss Pearl Wilkerson, a graduate of the Normal School and for several years teacher of the primary grades in the public schools of Union Star, Mo., has charge of grades three and four. Miss Mattie Dykes, a graduate of the Normal School with teaching experience in the grades of Cedar Falls, Iowa, and last year in the high school at King City, has charge of grades five and six.

Maryville is the first Missouri Normal to organize her elementary school on this plan, which is a distinct departure from current practices in the training of teachers in Normal schools thruout the country, and she has the unqualified approval of some of the best public school people in the state in taking this advanced step. The students in training are organized into classes and will have much study and observation in the work being done in typical school situations as handled by experienced teachers.

Those preparing for kindergarten and primary grades will be grouped; for purpose of study and observation of methods employed by the teachers in those grades. Likewise groups interested in upper grade work or rural work will study and observe in these rooms.

The three groups mentioned above will be under the instruction, supervision and direction of three supervisors: Miss Mildred Miller having charge of the students in training for kindergarten-primary grades; Miss Beulah Brunner, of classes of students in training for upper grades and rural schools, and Doctor Davis, of students in training for high school teaching.

The Maryville Normal has every reason to be proud of her showing in the fall quarter. With conditions made uncertain by the unsettled situation of the country, a great decrease in attendance had naturally been expected. However, when President Richardson was in Jefferson City in conference with the presidents of the other normal schools of the state, he learned that at that time the enrollment in the other schools was approximately: Kirksville, 406; Warrensburg, 447; Cape Girardeau, 311; Springfield, 370.

The enrollment in these schools has doubtless been increased somewhat since that time but each of them should be having an enrollment approximately as follows: Kirksville, 575-600; Warrensburg, 600 and over; Cape Girardeau, 425; Springfield, 500-550.

Our own enrollment is 297 and there are other students expected to enter. The present number lacks just three to make the enrollment which President Richardson declared last winter, would be the minimum in the future. The total registration for the fall quarter of last year was 336.

Not only has our enrollment been especially gratifying to the students and the friends of the school, but a higher type of work is being done. Over two hundred students are taking college work, with less than one hundred students of high school rank. This is the best showing that has been made by the school for any period of its existence, and in view of the fact that practically all co-educational institutions are suffering large reductions in their enrollment this year, both enrollment and the type of work done indicate the standing and progress of our school.

One of the features of the fall term is the new schedule. Previously each class recited five hours a week. This has been changed to four hours, making the average student sixteen recitation hours a week. The vacant periods are used for the various faculty and student enterprises as follows: Monday, 1:20-2:20, Faculty meeting; Tuesday, 9:00-10:00, regular Assembly, and from 2:20-3:20 Class or Committee meetings; Wednesday, 11:00-12:00, Christian Association meetings; Thursday, 3:20-4:15, Literary Society meetings; Friday, 10:00-11:00, School Chorus and other student interests Assembly. Each instructor has the privilege of dismissing the 8:00-9:00 class one day each week. This new system is highly desirable

Few changes have been made in the faculty this year.

Miss Beatrix Winn has returned from her year's leave of absence; during which, she took her M. A. in English from Columbia University, New York City.

Miss Tessie Degan, a former student of the Normal, will assist in the Commercial Department the fall and winter quarters during Mr. Great-house's leave of absence. She will also continue her study thruout the year. Miss Degan came here from Benton High School at St. Joseph, where she has taught for several years.

Miss Helen Zenor, from Ada, Oklahoma, will be head of the music department. Miss Zenor is a graduate of the Beethoven Conservatory of Music at St. Louis and has practically finished the work for her degree from the University of Oklahoma. For four years she was supervisor of music in the public schools of Paris, Tex. The past year, Miss Zenor had charge of the music in the State Normal School at Ada, Oklahoma.

ALUMNI ATTENTION!

Every graduate of the Normal should read The Green and White Courier this year. The Alumni Association has been able to secure a subscription for each of its members and we want every graduate to avail himself of this opportunity to receive his school paper. The membership fee in the association is one dollar. In order to receive the full year's subscription, you should enroll AT ONCE by sending your name and one dollar to GET ACQUAINTED TEA.

A Get-Acquainted-Tea for the new students was held in the corridor in front of the Assembly Hall on Friday, September 14 at 3:20. The tables were decorated with hydrangea. A victrola furnished music during the hour. Everyone met everyone else and forgot that teachers could assign lessons.

in that it gives all students and teachers opportunity to take active part in the different phases of school life. From it may be expected a new and finer school spirit with an increased effectiveness for organizations and individuals.

Clem Hahn Is Captain.

Those following the pre-season practice for football take no pains to hide their delight with the advance showing of the squad, which has progressed to the scrimmage stage. The practice work has developed some exceptionally good material, the coaches say. The prospects for a successful season are much more luminous than at the corresponding date last year.

Football is comparatively new in Maryville, but it has already gained a host of enthusiastic followers. Last year was the first time that the Normal took part in football and the team is sure to show greatly improved form this year.

Thirty men are out for the season. Thirteen are from the 1916 squad, of these six were members of the first team. Only one of the last year's backfield is in school this year.

The regulars who have returned are: Forrest Brown, Jamesport; John Lawton, Princeton; Ray Nichols, Bethany; Harold Sawyers, Clem Hahn (capt.) and Vern Pickens, Maryville. All except Pickens are linemen.

First squad men who are back are: Charles Hartman, Barnard; Clyde Sawyers, Ralph Palmer, Melvin Neal and Dean Partridge, Maryville.

Others who have played before are: Walter Shilt, Princeton, who has had two years of high school football; Ernest Daniels and Euel Ramsey of last year's Maryville High School team.

Besides those with experience there are several likely looking prospects among the raw recruits. Chief among them is Cleo Richards, a 180-pounder from Guilford, and Joe Wells, Maryville, who weighs even more than Richards. Both of these men have clinched places on the first team. Fred McMahon, Fairfax, and Earl Miller, Hopkins, are other new men who are making good.

The first team as they appear now in practice is as follows: center, Brown; right guard, Wells and Nichols; left guard, H. Sawyers and Hartman; right tackle, Hahn (capt.); left tackle, Lawton; right end, Shilt; left end, C. Sawyers; full back, Richards and Daniels; right half back, McMahon; left half back, Miller; quarter back, Pickens.

Other members of the squad who are showing up well are: Clifford Clark, Jesse Boatman, Lloyd Hartley, Melvin Neal, Lisle Hanna, Ralph

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1917.

FOR YOU!

We are indeed glad to welcome so many new students and former students to Normal Number Five!

The fact that our enrollment has increased, not decreased as the other State Normals have, shows that we have not become so confused by existing conditions as to neglect educational opportunities. Today more than ever before, not a boy or a girl should be out of college unless there exists a greater and unquestioned work for him to do elsewhere. Now is the time to lay the foundation for the training which will enable us to solve the new and unfamiliar problems confronting us when the cannon sound shall have died away.

Team work will be needed; not the kind where one clique "pulls" for the honors for their own crowd; but the kind where every man has his place and his work and all are interdependent, working for the good of all. Let this year in this school be one of true loyalty. There is a place and a work for every one of you! This is your school! It will not continue to grow if you do not help. Let each and every one of us find our place, whether it be on an athletic team, in a society or in any of the other student activities. The result will be that we shall feel that we are a part of an institution which means much in the life of our community.

The Green and White Courier in the past has been published by the representatives from the various student organizations with Mr. Colbert as advisor. A class in Journalism has been introduced this year for the Courier Staff members. Miss Winn, who made a study of school papers while at Columbia University, will have charge of this conference. All students of the Normal are free to contribute as formerly; in fact, the staff urgently requests contributions from each student. The Courier is the Student paper and will be interesting to each student if he helps to gather the news.

CHANGES IN TRAINING SCHOOL.

The children of the elementary school will be under the constant instruction and supervision of the three room teachers mentioned above.

The junior high school movement is becoming so popular in Missouri that these schools are being established thruout the whole state, especially in the cities and large towns. Maryville State Normal shows she was abreast of the times when she organized the seventh and eighth grades of the Training School into a junior high school, run on the same principles and with a similar course of study that the other junior high schools have.

The teaching is on the departmental plan; the teachers being from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes of the Normal School. The work is so arranged that any pupil who is deficient in any one study may take the work in a lower grade. The length of the class periods is one hour. One half of the hour, however, is devoted to supervised study in such studies as English, mathematics, geography and history.

The home study is so co-ordinated with the work that only one main lesson has to be prepared each night, unless the pupil falls behind in his work. Each teacher knows the day on which she must assign the home work in her class.

Besides the regulation program of arithmetic, geography, history, English, spelling, music, home economy, manual training, drawing, and physical education, there have been added Latin and German. Elementary Latin is taught in the seventh and eighth grades, while German is taught only in the eighth grade. The pupils have the unusual privilege of having heads of departments in some of their work. Miss Anthony has charge of home economy; Miss Hook, of German; Mr. Hanson, of manual training; Miss Boggs, of physical education for girls, and Mr. Palfreyman, that for the boys.

The list of teachers in the school is Misses Bullerdick, Madera, Ratliff, Barrett, West and Evans, Mrs. O'Neil and Mr. Pickens.

The former Training School assembly room which has been made into the junior study hall is fitted with adjustable desks and chairs; the floor is covered with cork carpet to eliminate all possible noise.

assisted in the team's workouts by C. H. Belting, all-Western guard 1910-1911; all conference guard, "Big Nine" 1910-1911; member of football team University of Illinois.

Walter Hanson, director of athletics, has contracted with Graceland College for the opening game of the season, to be played on the Maryville field Friday, Oct. 12. It is preliminary to the inter-collegiate season.

The inter-collegiate games will begin with the Normal's trip to Springfield Normal, Oct. 19. William Jewell College will play here Oct. 26. Mr. Hanson has secured a date with Bellevue College, Bellevue, Neb. for an exhibition, non-conference game here Nov. 2. At this time the Northwest District Teachers Association will be in session here. Missouri Wesleyan College will play here Nov. 9. The Bear Cats will play Tarkio College at Tarkio Nov. 23, and will wind up the season here with a Thanksgiving game against the Kirksville Normal team.

Our team is sure to be a winner this year if every student gives it the support he should. There are some stiff games on the schedule and the team must have our support. The team will do it's part, the question is, "Will you do your's?"

NORMAL BOYS IN THE DRAFT.

Since the summer quarter, a number of Normal boys have answered their country's call. They are: Edgar Hull, Verne Cornelius, Tracy Dale, Earl Brittain, Frank McKee, Eugene Bird, and George Wamsley.

PHILOMATHEAN NOTES

The Philomathean Literary Society has begun its work for the fall quarter of school.

The new officers: Mary West, president; Mattie Dykes, vice-president; Dorothy Dale, secretary; Sylvia Ratliff, treasurer and Blanche Daise, sargeant-at arms have taken their places at the head of the society. All of them are good boosters who have shown much enthusiasm in their work.

The society meetings have been well attended, and each member is showing a keen interest in the Philo work. At the regular meeting on September 27, Miss Frances E. Willard's birthday was observed by a

Frances E. Willard program. The program was as follows:

Biography of Frances E. Willard Lucile Snowberger.
Work of the W. C. T. U. Blanche Daise.
Piano Solo Pearl Wilkerson.
Poem by Frances E. Willard Marie Allcorn.

A letter from George Wamsley, a Philo who is now in the training camp at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, was read before the society.

Camp Doniphan,
Ft. Sill, Okla.,
Sept. 17, 1917.

Dear Philos:

I have been thinking of writing to tell you about camp and the army; but it took some time for this brave soldier to get courage to write the ancient, honorable and august Philos. Having duly fortified myself with a bottle of ink, I will proceed. I was called to K. C. August 4, and on Aug. 5, we were mustered into federal service. We stayed in K. C. in the third regiment M. N. G. armory until Aug. 16, when we were sent to Nevada. We were kept there a week, and sent to Fort Sill where we now are. We have no idea when we will move next.

We are equipped as infantry with many additions to infantry equipment. Our arms consist of the regular infantry arms and a forty-five automatic pistol.

The Y. M. C. A. provides most of the entertainments. They have about a dozen buildings on the reservations. They provide religious services, music, writing places and materials, picture shows, athletic tournaments, and courses of study in many subjects.

Have the diplomas for honorary members been sent? I am anxious to receive mine.

I will stop now as my correspondence is a subject of much criticism in my tent. Write me, and I will write again if you like it. This is a bait.

Once a Philo
Still a Philo,
George J. Wamsley.

Philo Homecoming.

The Annual Philo Homecoming will be held on Thursday, Oct. 25, at the regular meeting of the society. This is the day of the year for every Philo. Every member who can will be with us, and those who cannot will send letters to Miss Dorothy Dale (sec.), 823 North Main St. These letters will be opened and read before the society. We are looking forward to this day as one of much interest.

Miss Marie Grundy, a Philomathean, is teaching the fourth grade at Roselyn, Washington, and commanding a western salary.

Mr. Lewis Hunt, a member of the Philomathean Literary Society who has been in training at Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas, spent several days in Maryville, during his leave of absence. While here he visited the Normal and attended the Philo meeting. Mr. Hunt left Monday, October 1, for Fort Worth, where he will be in camp again.

CLASS ORGANIZATIONS.

Seniors.

The Seniors met Tuesday, September 25, and selected their officers for the year. Those elected were:
Verne L. Pickens President
Myrne Converse Vice-President
Lisle Hanna Sec. and Treas.
R. Blanche Daise Staff Member

Ella Moore President
Harold Sawyers Vice-Pres.
Mahala Saville Sec. and Treas.
Beulah Beggs Staff Member

The class seems very enthusiastic and is very proud to record among their number three active teachers; two of whom are room teachers in the demonstration school, and the other is in the commercial department of the Normal.

Of the fourteen, two are new students coming to us from other schools: one from Central College, Fayette and one from the Kirksville State Normal.

All sorts of ideas, as yet unshaped, are floating in our heads, but we hope to carry these ideas into definite action so that other student organizations may sit up lest,

Sophomores.

The first regular session of the Sophomore Class was held Tuesday, October 2, at 2:30 P. M., at which time the officers were elected and the class organization completed. Much interest was shown by the members of this class, and many

FORMER INSTRUCTORS IN THE SERVICE.

Prof. M. A. Neale, a former instructor, has been made a lieutenant in the United States Army. Professor Neal left here to become teacher-training inspector of the state department. A year ago he resigned that position to complete his doctorate at Teacher's College, Columbia University, New York City. He took his training for the Army at Plattsburg with 5,000 student officers in competition.

L. M. Eck, a former instructor and later secretary to President Richardson, is stationed at Fort Sheridan. He is first sergeant in Ambulance Company No. 9, made up of 118 students from North-western University. They have been in the service four months; it is not known when they will be sent abroad.

A NEW MOVEMENT IN MUSIC.

Normal Number Five is ambitious. It is not satisfied with being in the front rank of state schools in increase of membership, but it also wants to become a leader in music and song. Under the direction of Miss Zenor, the new instructor of music the school will surely attain its ambition.

Miss Zenor's plan is for the entire student body to belong to one great musical class, that will meet at 10 o'clock each Friday morning in the Auditorium for a general song and musical program.

Miss Zenor has a roll book for this new music class. She asks every student to sign the roll, thus showing their willingness to become identified with the movement, and their desire to assist in making Normal Number Five the most practical and helpful school in Missouri.

Miss Zenor has said, "Come, let us sing, for thru no other channel can we so easily become united in spirit and purpose. In order to be abreast of the times, we must join hands—we must pull together."

"Singing soldiers are fighting soldiers. Singing students are fighting students. Fighting is effort, and nothing is obtained without effort. Our plane of living is established by effort, and a school forges ahead only as it is backed by its earnest and co-operative fighters."

"We have a vision of power and might for Number Five, so let us strive to obtain for our school every good and worthy thing. Let us prove our right to be by our courage, co-operation and helpfulness."

FORMER STUDENTS IN OTHER SCHOOLS.

The Normal School is well represented in other schools as the following students are attending other institutions: Harold Ramsey, Ray McPherron, Neil Hutchison at Missouri University; Francyl Rickenbrode at Baker University; Harold Ryan at the Catholic University of Washington University, D. C.; Harriet Van Buren, former assistant librarian, at Drake University; Elizabeth Cook, Minnesota University. Lois and Joe Farmer have moved to Minneapolis and are attending the University there.

Philip Colbert who has enrolled in the Rollo School of Mines has received, to the fullest extent, the traditional Freshman hazing.

MISS WINN ADDRESSES SHAKEPEARE CLUB.

On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Beatrice Winn, assistant instructor of English, talked to the Shakespeare department of the Twentieth Century Club of Maryville. Her subject was "Technique of the Drama." While at Columbia University the past year, Miss Winn made a special study of the drama.

The following officers were chosen to fill other vacancies on the Executive Board: Lloyd Hartley, vice-president; Miss Mabel Rogers, secretary; Miss Gladys Reinhart, treasurer; and Miss Opal Farris, sergeant-at-arms. They are all efficient workers and good boosters, and this assures a successful administration.

The meeting September 26 was a most important one with Miss Mary Lewis as leader. The theme was the vital one of Christian Service. Miss Lewis pointed out the various phases of Christian work which are open to all. As the Association had decided to do some definite war relief work, the remainder of the time was spent discussing the different possibilities for service, the Red Cross sewing or knitting, or sewing for the French Orphans. In order to give the girls time to choose, voting was deferred until the next meeting, October 3. This important work is open not only to the Association members, but to every girl in school who is willing to give at least one hour of her time and work each week. A monthly fund amounting to about fifteen dollars was subscribed to pay for materials.

The Y. W. C. A. entertained in the Library all the girls of the school, Friday night, September, 28. Each one was asked to come dressed as she did at just half her present age—which, of course made it a "kid party."

The Y. W. C. A. girls have been asked to serve at the monthly Faculty Tea, Wednesday, October 3.

Miss Webb of Missouri City was called to her home this week by the death of her brother.

Miss Catherine White has returned to her home in Bosworth, Mo., because of illness. She will be unable to attend school this quarter.
